CURRICULUM VITAE

Eva Maesa.

Versatile performer: actress, clown, stilt walker, poet

Biography

Eva Maesa was born in Foggia on 8 January 1991: poet, performer, clown, stilt walker, eclectic actress. She came to theatre very young in Foggia and went on between Rome, Bologna and wherever possible, moving across every kind of setting. She trained at PATS, then attended the second year of the Pietro Sharoff Academy.

Close to circus, dance and the principles of the Theatre of the Oppressed, she also works as an educator, fostering inclusion and non-violent communication. She is active as a performer and author with circus and theatre groups. She explores exchanges between artistic languages and develops a physical poetics in dialogue with electronic and live music; in her stubborn search to give voice to the unspeakable she has met many artists and musicians.

She has ten years' experience as an entertainer, hostess and bartender (HACCP certified), gained in the most varied settings.
